

DVRC MEMBERSHIP PROGRAM

The Delaware Valley Raptor Center is a non-profit, tax-exempt, private organization dedicated to the conservation of birds of prey. It currently acts as a sanctuary for about two dozen raptors that are active or retired education birds and foster parents that have spent much of their lives here because their injuries prevented their release. They came to the center at some point between 1987 and 2019 while the center was still active in raptor rehabilitation, providing professional care for injured and orphaned raptors in need, with most of them returning to the wild. By becoming a member of the Delaware Valley Raptor Center you will be ensuring the continued care for these birds of prey still in need, as well as helping to supporting DVRC's education programs.

The DVRC membership year runs from January 1 to December 31. Any new membership application received after August 31 will not expire until December of the following year.

DVRC members are able to tour the center by appointment and are able to bring guests along on their scheduled staff led tours. There is a 10% senior citizen discount on individual and family memberships. Your membership donation is tax-deductible.

DVRC ADOPTION PROGRAM

Lend your support to the DVRC's sanctuary and education programs by adopting, for one month, one of the center's permanent resident education or retired raptors.

Your tax-deductible adoption contribution will help cover the cost of care, housing, and food for the bird you sponsor.

Upon receiving your adoption application, the Delaware Valley Raptor Center will send you:

- ✓ an adoption certificate
- ✓ a 5" x 7" color photograph of the raptor you are sponsoring
- ✓ a past DVRC Journal selected for you
- ✓ a species information sheet
- ✓ a packet of raptor note cards with $60 adoptions

Note: Unlike DVRC Memberships, DVRC Adoptions do not include visits to the center.

Sienna, an unreleasable red-tail hawk, that is used for education and has called DVRC her home since 1990.
